Wrangling

- Choose a dialogue consisting of two short sentences expressing disagreement.
- In pairs say the dialogue as an argument.
- You are only allowed to use the words in the text but vary the stress, gesture and tone to try to convince each other!

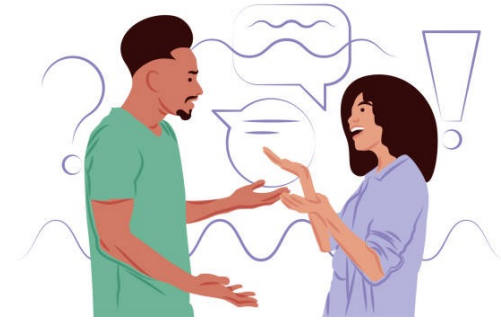

'I'm sure it's going to rain.'
'Of course it isn't.'

'The answer is no.'
'But why? It's not fair.'

'I don't want to hear any excuses. You're fired!'
'But I can explain. Please let me explain!'

Variation – Allow for improvisation and development into a role play.

Don't say yes or no

- In small groups
- One person answers questions (cannot say yes/no)
- The others ask questions
- One minute time limit or change when the person says yes/no.

Taken from Five-Minute Activities by Penny Ur.

Six word question.

- In small groups. One person as the guesser, the rest will ask the question.
- Make the guesser say your word by asking a question.
- Each question must be exactly 6 words.
- Each teammate says two words each (no conferring).
- Complicated? - Lets see an example.

Idea taken from Taskmaster.

Writing Storm

- Take a pen and a piece of paper each.
- Work individually
- You have 2 minutes
